CAMBRIDGE AMERICAN CEMETERY

Graves Area

This World War II American Battle Monuments Cemetery is located three miles west of the University city of Cambridge, England on Highway A-1303 and sixty miles north of London. It takes about four and a quarter hours driving from London via automobile. Cambridge may also be reached by railroad from the Liverpool Street Station. Travel time is about one and one half-hours. Train service is frequent. Taxicab service to the cemetery is available at the Cambridge Station. There are excellent hotels in the city.

The site is thirty and a half acres in extent. It was donated by the University of Cambridge. It lies on a north slope with wide prospect. The west and south sides of the cemetery are framed by woodland. There are 3,812 American military Dead buried there. On the wall running from the entrance to the chapel are inscribed the names of 5,126 (MIA) Americans who gave their lives in the service of their country, but whose remains were never recovered or identified. Most of these died in the Battle of the Atlantic or in the strategic air bombardment of Northwest Europe during World War II.

Summer: Open hours are from 9:00am to 6:00pm
