Hey Mr. Martin,

I have a letter that was sent to my Grandfather in December of 45. It is a letter from a friend and included a list of places that he and my grandfather stayed while in the war. We do not know who sent the letter because we do not have the envelope and it looks like the letter is signed Col. I saved it as a pdf file. Let me know if you have any problems opening it.

Dear Joe:

I have finally gotten around to making you a copy of the list of places we stayed in and am enclosing it with this. Some of the places I can't remember much about at this time, see what luck you have with them. The main things I do recall are that we went into Germany first at Rechtenbach and didn't stay too long. Remember that mad dash we made back to Hellmer during the night? For some reason I put down a note to the effect that we crossed the Danube at 2045 on the 26th of April. As I remember the Danube was just a little stream about 20 yards wide at the point where we crossed.

Things are just about coming to a close here before the Xmas holidays. Next week will be the last week of classes and then a week of exams. My friend Lamb and I are planning on leaving here Friday morning the 19th and heading north. As I told you we will stop and say hello on our way.

I really enjoyed my short stay with you, wish it could have been longer but as I told you at the time I really did have things to do back here. That meeting on Saturday morning was mostly a waste of time but then most of those things are.

About time to take off for dinner so will end up here. If, by chance, you are not around when we stop in, have yourself a Merry Xmas and the Happy New Year that goes with it.

As ever
